

Dear User,

Welcome to the Black Scientists & Inventors™ Platform

Thank you for participating in the testing phase of the new Black Scientists & Inventors™ platform—your one-stop destination for educational products and services celebrating Black excellence in STEM.

This platform is designed to be a safe and inspiring space where you can engage with STEM, Fourth Industrial Revolution (4iR) technologies, and entrepreneurship alongside like-minded individuals.

As we conclude this testing period, we kindly ask that you share this exciting new initiative with your friends, family, and wider community.

To help us verify the digital book download process, please log in and simulate a forgotten password scenario by clicking “Reset Password.” This step allows us to test our security protocols.

We also encourage you to:

- Send us a message via the Contact section.
- Subscribe to our Newsletter for updates and opportunities.
- Visit the IDEAS-HUB to create a stream focused on a STEM or entrepreneurship topic that interests you. Feel free to engage with other users by commenting on their posts.

These small actions go a long way in helping us refine and improve the platform. Your support is invaluable.

Thank you in advance, The Black Scientists & Inventors™ Team
